Which are the main characteristics?

The main objective of the IN-Create online programme is to introduce learners the importance of art and the results it can have on the process of migrants' integration, as well as the contribution of social economy.

People with fewer opportunities like migrants and refugees very often face discrimination into the local communities they belong, or they experience exclusion from many aspects of the everyday life. Art and Culture can have a great impact on supporting the integration of migrants and refugees.

Through artistic activities like theatre, filming, photography etc. migrants and refugees can both gain new useful skills and feel part of a community and at the same time express themselves creatively. The course will also have an introduction to social economy and how this – related to the field of arts, can also support TCNs integration.

STEPS AND MODULES

The course adopts a modular approach consisting of 5 modules each covering a specific set of training areas and learning objectives.

Not all modules are mandatory, but only if completing at least 2/4 the certificate will be issued.
